If a candidate, a candidate's principal campaign committee or a political committee expects to neither receive nor expend a total of more than $500 for the entire election, SED 227 may be filed. Candidates may file the certificate when they file for office. Political committees may file the certificate when they file an original statement of organization. The certificate must be filed by the deadline for filing the first pre-election report.

This form cannot be used by chief petitioners of initiatives, referendums or recalls for the report required to be filed 15 days after the signatures have been submitted for verification.

When either total contributions or total expenditures exceed $500, complete contribution and expenditure statements must be filed. These statements must be filed within the current filing period and shall reflect all contributions and expenditures to date.

Deadline dates for filing contributions and expenditures statements and certificates must be strictly observed. ORS 260.232 authorizes the secretary of state to impose a civil penalty against a candidate or committee treasurer filing a late or insufficient contributions and expenditures statement or certificate.
